

Civil Rights Probably a Dead Duck This Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today the civil rights bill by the Senate judiciary committee, which he said it will make the bill "largely ineffective" in protecting the rights of all Americans to vote.

Eisenhower previously pictured by Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) as "damning" over the Senate action, gave his views in a statement marked by sharp language.

He said the 51-42 vote guaranteeing jury trials in criminal contempt cases would be "bitterly disappointing" to many millions of Americans in that it would have the effect of leaving great numbers of qualified voters disenfranchised.

"Rarely in our entire legislative history have so many extraneous issues been introduced into the debate in order to confuse both the legislators and the public," Eisenhower said.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, who said Eisenhower dictated the statement to him, declined to tell reporters whether the President will veto the bill if it is finally passed by Congress in the form of the Senate measure.

A possibility that it may not do so this year was foreseen by Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader. Knowland said he thinks the bill may become stymied in conference with the House, which passed the bill much more closely than the Senate.

Hagerty did not dispute a newsman's suggestion that Eisenhower would hardly accept a bill which, in his opinion, weakened the American judiciary.

Potter reported on Eisenhower's reaction after a call to the White House this morning to discuss another matter with the President. Without elaborating, Potter told newsmen "the President is damn unhappy about losing the fight over the jury trial amendment."

Knowland's view that the bill may be dead as far as this session of Congress is concerned was not shared by other backers of the bill. And Sen. Russell (D-Ga.) held out possibility that some Southern opponents may even vote for the bill if a few more changes are made.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration lost the battle against the jury trial amendment, and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today the civil rights bill probably is dead for this session of Congress.

But his permission was not shared by all the bill's supporters, the possibility that some Southern forces of the measure may vote for it if a few more changes are made.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, told reporters he had "no allis" for the 51-42 vote by which the Senate adopted the jury trial amendment shortly after midnight.

Adoption of the jury trial amendment, he said, probably means that any measure the Senate passes will be tied up in a Senate-House disagreement. The House had rejected an provision for jury trials.

On the dramatic roll call vote, witnessed by spectators who crammed the Senate gallery, the party lineup was 39 Democrats and 12 Republicans for the amendment and 9 Democrats and 33 Republicans against it.

This was a wider margin of victory for the jury trial advocates than had been anticipated.

Seeks Airport for 'Petit Jean Park'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Publicity and Parks Commission has "implied" legal authority to sponsor development of an airport for Petit Jean State Park, the attorney general's office said today.

The opinion went to commission Director Sam Kirby, who asked for it as request of the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

The commission wants the CAA to furnish about $12,000 to match a like sum from the state to improve the landing strip.

The strip was needed to the mission by Winthrop Rockefeller, who had developed it for his own use.

Tentative plans call for paving the 4,000-foot strip and relocating lights to bring the facility up to CAA standards for a secondary airport.

Assistant Attorney Gen. Russell says the 1955 act creating the commission did not specifically authorize the purchase of land within the authority of the state.

Worker Injured in Loading Accident

Ed Thompson, aged 54, Hope Basket Company worker, was critically injured early today in an accident at the local plant.

He suffered a severe blow on his chest when a loader clutch which he was operating slipped. He was rushed to a local hospital by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance.

Extent of his injuries could not be learned as the Star was unable to get any information from the hospital where he was taken for treatment.

$3 Billion Is Earmarked for U. S. Highway

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government today earmarked nearly three billion dollars to be spent on the national highway program in the 12 months starting in mid-1958.

The $2,875,000,000 apportioned to the various states includes two billion dollars to continue work on the 41,000-mile network of limited access superhighways. "These interstate highways will link 90 per cent of all cities with a population of 50,000 or more. The program calls for their completion in about 16 years."

The Bureau of Public Roads apportioned $339,750,000 for the federal-aid primary system. "This system, in existence for many years, includes almost all main routes used in inter-city travel. Counting in the interstate system, it is 235,000 miles in length."

A total of $262,500,000 was apportioned to the federal-aid secondary system of farm-to-market and feeder roads, some 520,000 miles in length.

For urban highways that are extensions of primary and secondary systems into cities, the government apportioned $218,750,000.

Seven states were apportioned more than $100 million dollars: New York leads the list with $107,947,650; Texas $86,409,763; Pennsylvania $149,238,048; Illinois $132,432,592; Ohio $119,338,559; Michigan $102,006,887.

The breakdown includes some four million dollars to be spent in Hawaii 17½ million for the district of Columbia, six million for Puerto Rico and about 13½ million for Alaska.

The breakdown by states including sums apportioned for the primary highway system, secondary or feeder roads, urban highways and the interstate system gives: Arkansas $6,412,707; primary; $5,162,374 secondary; $2,866,230 urban, and $28,078,328 interstate.

Missouri 11,115,563; primary; $7,524,427 secondary; $5,391,630 urban and $53,594,672.

Successful Businessman to Try Hand at Acting

NEW YORK (AP) — Would you rather be a successful businessman or a movie star?

At 27, Robert Evans, who looks like a boyish Tyrone Power, has decided to try to be both—a career executive in the women's sportswear field and a matinee idol.

"After all, why not live a diversified life?" he asked, leaning back in a beige leather chair in his skyscraper office in Manhattan's gleaming garment center. "It makes for a more rounded person."

A year ago Bob, who is tall, dark and spectacularly handsome, was happy and successfully as a partner in a dollar women's sportswear firm. Then Hollywood beckoned and it won't let him alone.

Increase in FHA Interest Rate Likely

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another increase in FHA home loan interest rates is imminent, congressional sources said today.

They said they expect a boost from 5 to 5½ per cent in the interest rate to be announced soon along with approval of lower down payments and new controls on the amount of discount — or premium — which may be charged borrowers on mortgage loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration.

No time was mentioned in connection with the rate increase, but reports were current that an announcement might be made before September. Firm loan commitments already made presumably would not be affected.

There was no immediate comment from housing officials. A reduction in FHA down payment requirements for prospective home buyers was authorized and imposition of sharply lower ceilings on discounts was ordered by Congress in new housing legislation signed July 12 by President Eisenhower.

Three Youths Admit Nine Burglaries

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Three teenage boys, arrested yesterday, admitted nine burglaries — and told how one job went awry.

The boys told police they would go to a house and if nobody answered the bell they would break in. "Once we got crossed up," one of the boys said, "We knocked on a door and when a woman answered we asked for a job."

Vocational School Down to 3 Sites

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said today that three vocational schools in the state would be closed, leaving only three sites.

The Board of Education chose the three sites at a meeting yesterday from a list of 24 applications.

The board will inspect sites at the three cities and make its final selection soon, Ford said.

Establishment of the vocational-technical school was authorized by Act 328 of the 1957 Legislature. A $500,000 appropriation to build the school was included in an omnibus construction bill.

There is no indication yet of a date for completion or operation of the school which is designed to train Arkansans in industrial skills.

Ford said the three selection yesterday were based on a long list of requirements. Other cities and towns which submitted bids for the school were Arkadelphia, Benton, Blytheville, Brinkley, Conway, De Queen, Fayetteville, Forrest City, Fort Smith, Hope, Hot Springs, Jacksonville, Little Rock, Malvern, Mena, Newport, Osceola, Paragould, Prescott, Russellville and Searcy.

$12,000 More Asked for Flood Relief Here

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Additional federal flood-damage aid has been recommended for 22 Arkansas counties by the state Disaster of $732,500.

Three counties — Clark, Cleburne and Prairie — were turned down. The committee also recommended yesterday that White County be named a disaster area eligible for emergency relief.

The 22 counties now must obtain approval of the Agricultural Conservation Program Service at Washington before they can get money to improve farmlands damaged in recent floods.

Designation of White County as a disaster area would mean that farmers and ranchers temporarily unable to get local credit could secure it if they qualified under Farmers Home Administration regulations. Department of Agriculture approval would be required for this.

The White County strawberry crop was severely damaged by floods.

In rejecting the requests of Clark, Cleburne and Prairie counties, the committee asked them to submit additional information on which clearly shows that the county meets the criteria established for special aid.

The ACP provides the additional aid when a disaster causes conservation problems too big for individual farmers and the regular program to handle.

Clyde F. Liebling of Little Rock, secretary of the committee, said no approval was given to the amount asked by the 22 counties. He said the committee merely designated them to receive additional aid.

Little River County requested $127,900 — the largest amount. Other counties requesting aid and the amounts asked included: Baxter, $14,044; Clay, $38,160; Crawford, $34,050; Faulkner, $20,000; Franklin, $12,000; Fulton, $50,000; Greene, $17,000; Hempstead, $12,000; Jackson, $4,800; Jefferson, $85,700; Johnson, $12,000; Lafayette, $22,500; Lawrence, $45,600; Logan, $40,000; Madison, $11,000; Marion, $3,000; Mississippi, $35,000; Perry, $20,000; Pulaski, $21,865; Sebastian, $70,000; and Yell, $22,213.

Clark County had asked for $4,500; Cleburne County $3,250; and Prairie County $4,000.

Robert A. Tindall of Stuttgart, chairman of the committee, said Department of Agriculture investigators from Washington would visit Arkansas to determine whether the counties are eligible for the assistance.

A federal FHA official who came to Arkansas to investigate complaints that some farmers were having trouble in obtaining emergency loans completed a 5-county survey yesterday.

Dale H. Smith, assistant FHA administrator, said he would report that the Arkansas FHA is going to the job.

Smith said he found no backlog of loan applications in Crawford, Sebastian, Franklin Logan and Johnson counties during his tour.

Probers Told Workers Face Economic Chaos

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate investigators were told today that a million workers face "economic slavery" in sweatshops controlled by New York unions under James R. Hoffa and underworld cohorts.

Charges of "outrageous" conditions for dues-paying members of locals set up by John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi and his hoodlum lieutenants were made before the special Senate Rackels committee by:

John McNiff, 22-year-old executive secretary of the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists, who said bona fide unions will disappear from New York unless Hoffa and Teamster Union Vice President Hoffa are stopped.

Beltha Nunez, attractive 27-year-old immigrant from Honduras, who told of leading a fight against "racketeers" who consorted with an employer to take dues from her and fellow employees while signing sub-standard secret agreements.

The situation they outlined was described by Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) as "disgraceful" and worthy of action by New York authorities.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) said the committee should put through a "second emancipation proclamation" to wipe out "deplorable racket-ridden union conditions" for Puerto Rican laborers in New York. Mundt said it "revives the conditions of the Negroes in America" before slavery was abolished.

Batista Holds Cuba Under Military Rule

HAVANA (AP) — President Fulgencio Batista's army held Cuba under strict military rule today after an anti-Batista demonstration in the port city of Santiago de Cuba.

Comment on the demonstration and the situation in Cuba by Earl E. T. Smith, the new U. S. ambassador, brought a fusillade of criticism from political leaders loyal to the President.

Batista's Cabinet suspended constitutional guarantees for 45 days and immediately directed the army to take control of Santiago, capital of Oriente province and a hotbed of anti-Batista sentiment.

A general strike had been called in the city to protest police action in dispersing Wednesday's demonstration. Most places of business were closed, although police forced some food stores to remain open.

Faust Quits as Weight Dept. Chief

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Robert M. (Bob) Faust revealed to Gov. Orval E. Faubus yesterday that he was resigning as director of the State Police Weights and Standards division.

Faust declined comment last night. He said reasons for his resignation would be made public probably next Monday in a letter he plans to write to the governor.

Faust said the governor has asked him not to make the situation public until he had received a definite decision. He said last night he was "fairly sure" he had made his decision, but was trying to decide whether to "bow out gracefully."

He said he did not want to hurt anyone.

Faust, one-time staunch supporter of the governor's, recently bucked the administration during the controversy over enforcement of over-wide trailers on Arkansas highways. Faust refused to relax enforcement of the law when asked to do so by the governor and the state police commission.

The state police executive said this and "several other small reasons" caused him to make up his mind to quit.

Faust was appointed head of the weights and standards division when Faubus became governor in January, 1955. He was the governor's campaign manager in 1954, when Faubus defeated former Gov. Francis Cherry in his bid for a second term.

Sweeping Plan of Inspections Red Challenge

By WILLIAM C. SEXTON

LONDON (UP) — The Western powers offered today to open all of Europe and North America to Soviet air and ground inspectors if Russia will admit the West to all Soviet territory.

The sweeping plan, presented to the five-power U. S. disarmament conference by Secretary of State John A. Dulles, was the broadest challenge yet issued by the West in 11 years of stalemate arms cut talks.

The Western plan included a flexible clause offering smaller, compressed zones in Europe and North America if Russia balks at throwing open all its vast territory.

Dulles presented the plan on behalf of the United States, Britain, Canada and France with a plea that experts bring "at once" to draw up detailed blueprints.

He said Soviet acceptance of these sweeping safeguards against surprise attack would help create the kind of East-West confidence needed for further arms cuts and settlement of major international disputes.

The Dulles plan went much further than the original open skies plan first proposed by President Eisenhower at the Geneva summit conference, July 21, 1955. . . It includes all of Canada instead of just the United States and the Soviet Union. . . It also might include all of Europe from Ireland on the West to Russia's Ural Mountains in the east. This means the whole of western Europe (about 1,400,000 square miles) in return for all of Eastern Europe and European Russia (about 2,800,000 square miles).

Knowland Is Confident of Rights Victory

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he was confident a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill would be defeated despite its revision in an apparent effort to sway wavering senators.

But supporters of a jury trial provision evidently hoped that the revised amendment would tip the scales their way in the hip-and-tuck fight over the issue.

A new section added to the pending amendment last night would permit Negroes or others to serve as federal court jurors regardless of whether or not they were qualified under state laws.

Knowland said that while this change in federal law might be desirable in itself, it did not lessen his opposition to having a jury trial into the civil rights measure.

And he told a reporter he did not believe the amendment had cost opponents of the amendment any votes. He said he still was confident of victory and was ready to vote at any time.

But there were indications that proponents of the jury trial amendment — including Southern senators who are opposing any civil rights legislation — also are looking forward more confidently to a showdown.

Cleanup After Prison Riot Continues

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP) — The task of cleaning up continued today inside riot-torn Montana State prison.

A sort of armed truce prevailed as prison inmates agreed to a fight until prison commissioners have had a chance to study the demands made during their nine-hour uprising Tuesday.

Aty. Gen. Forrest H. Anderson, a member of the State Board of Prison Commissioners, said last night that with the exception of cleanup activities, everything at the prison was "orderly."

The cleanup job would be tremendous, but declined to estimate how long it would take.

The riot began Tuesday noon when a group of convicts apparently became angered over a guard's order to shell peas.

They held eight guards as hostages, releasing them only after Anderson asked them that their demands would be given consideration by the prison board.

Montgomery, in Helena, Gov. J. of the prison board, announced that a board meeting scheduled today was postponed until early next week to give Warden F. O. Burrell a chance to appraise the situation and "get his feet on the ground."

Burrell, who was in Indiana when the riot occurred, hurried back to Deer Lodge yesterday. He said last night that "I don't want to make any comments until I have had a chance to talk with Gov. Anderson, other members of the Board of Prison Commissioners and prison officials."

Maximum security was restored to the 88-year-old institution about 4 p.m. yesterday, nearly 24 hours after the 40 inmates got out of hand.

Better Buys at Markets Are Listed

By The Associated Press

Food stores will tempt consumer appetites and pocketbooks with a wide variety of bargains this weekend. Here are some of the better buys at the meat department: Turkeys, hams, swordfish, crabmeat, flounder fillets, frankfurters, frying chickens.

You'll find few bargains in beef. If anything, prices are a few cents higher on most cuts, although supermarkets in some cities are offering specials in hamburger and boneless chuck.

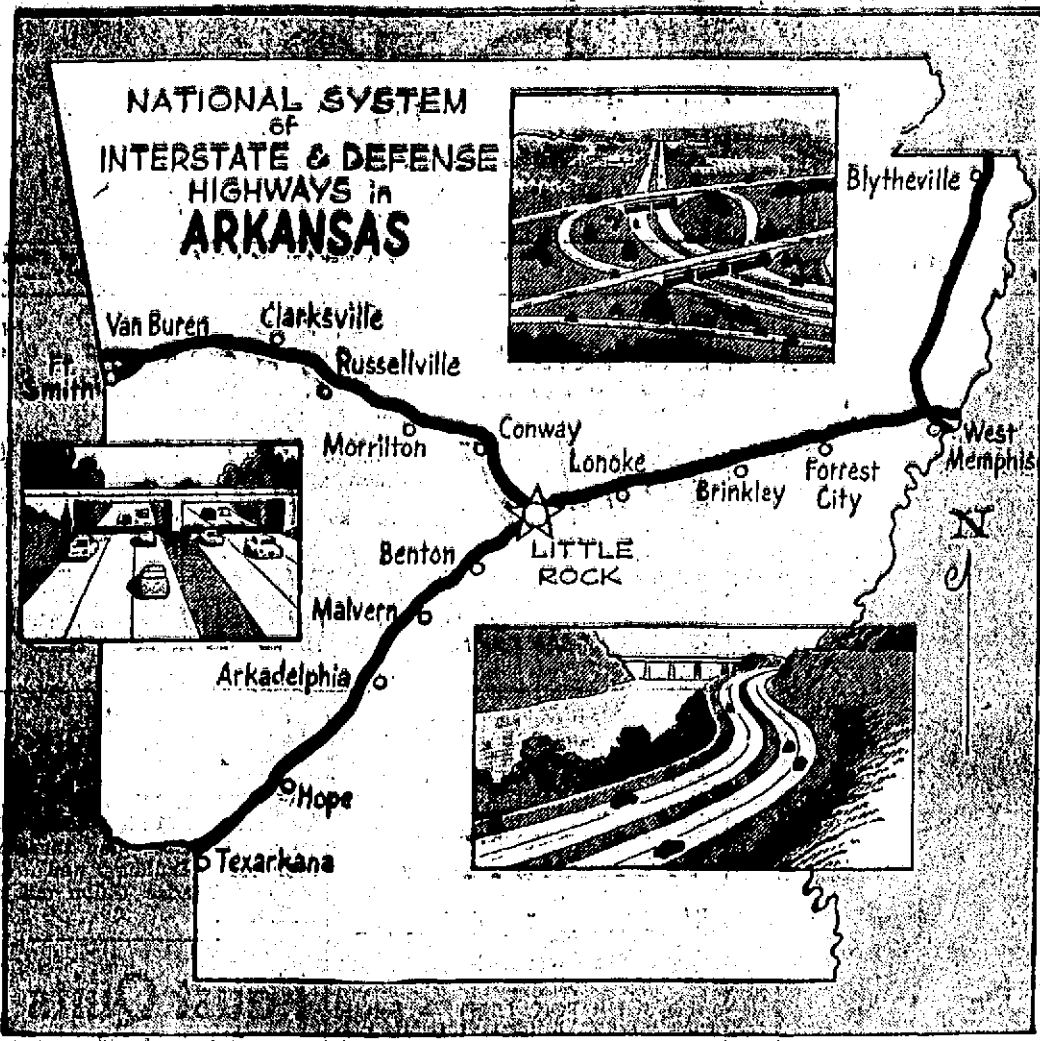

Market specialists say beef prices should head lower in the early fall, as they do every year, but this time the downturn may be smaller. The season's more beefsteaks than a year ago and fewer cattle.

Pork prices may soon go down a bit as more hogs come to market. Reductions of a few cents a pound are reported in several sections of the country, but pork chops this week. Prices of lamb and veal are steady.

On the produce counter, you'll see the usual summer favorites — tomatoes, sweet corn, squash, cucumbers, peaches, carrots and cabbage — at attractive prices in most parts of the country.

Potatoes from California, Oregon and Washington state are reaching the city markets in increasing volume. Russet or golden heart variety is rated an excellent buy this week.

Blueberries are considered one of the best buys in the fruit category. Catahoula from the West Coast are attractively priced.

Here is the tentative location of the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways in Arkansas. Approximately 225 miles of rural and urban super highways will be constructed in the state during the next 13 years. Recently bids were accepted on 12.9 miles of highways north of West Memphis and for four bridges south of Benton. Construction of the four-lane, divided pavement, plus interchanges, etc., will be in concrete.

7 Appointments by Ike Gave to GOP

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower angrily told his news conference yesterday he would never consider appointing anyone recommended on the basis of a political contribution.

Of the 36 ambassadors he has named since the 1956 elections, seven contributed cash to the Republican campaign and one gave money to the Democrats. This writer can find no record of where the other 28 made a contribution to either that year.

The presidential anger was the last link in a chain of events that came to a climax after he had given an ambassadorial appointment to Maxwell H. Gluck, a rich woman's near chain-store owner and breeder of race horses. Gluck contributed $26,500 to the Republicans in 1956, according to published records.

Sometime this year, it seems, he got the idea he's like to work for the government. He says now, "I wanted to do some good."

He was surprised, he said yesterday, that Eisenhower appointed him ambassador to Ceylon.

But the events began four months ago when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which had never heard of Gluck at that time, wanted to strengthen Secretary of State Dulles's hand in resisting the appointment of unqualified men for key posts in the Foreign Service. The committee wrote a letter to Dulles.

It said: "It is generally known that presidents and secretaries of state of both political parties have been under pressure from those who feel that an ambassadorship is a reward for past services or help."

The committee chairman, Sen. Green (D-R.I.), said, "We should have first-rate ambassadors in every post." Nothing more was heard of this as the months passed. In June Eisenhower named Gluck to the ambassador's job in Ceylon.

In July Gluck had to appear before Green's committee, which passes on appointments like Gluck's. But the trouble with Gluck, as it turned out, was that he failed to do his homework.

He said he must have given as much as $30,000 to the Republican campaign, but he couldn't pronounce the names of the prime ministers of India and Ceylon.

This got so much publicity that Eisenhower was asked at his news conference yesterday: "Were you aware when you nominated Mr. Gluck to be ambassador to Ceylon of either the extent of his contribution to the Republican party or his now recorded ignorance of affairs in that part of the world?"

That's when Eisenhower's eye w-up, denied political contributions had any connection with appointments, and said a "number of people I respect" had highly recommended Gluck.

The new ambassadors — besides Gluck — who contributed to the Republicans in 1956 were — American businessmen without previous experience in the diplomatic service. They and their posts are:

John Hay Whitney, millionaire financier (London); A. Mory Houghton, former board chairman of the Corning glass works (France); James D. Zellerbach, paper manufacturer (Italy); John Clifford Folger, head of a brokerage firm (Belgium); Earl E. T. Smith, Florida real estate dealer (Mexico); and Joseph S. Farland, former consultant to the State Department on foreign aid (Dominican Republic).

The eighth ambassador, who made a political contribution in 1956 — but to the Democrats — was David K. E. Bruce, who was sent to West Germany. He had previous experience. He was ambassador to France under President Truman.

Early in Eisenhower's administration, Bruce was ambassador to the European Coal and Steel Community and served as a member of the President's board of consultants on foreign intelligence activities.

Eighteen of the 36 new ambassadors were from the ranks of career officers — State Department employees who are making diplomacy their life's work. The other 18, including those already named, were from business; from State Department jobs to which they had previously been appointed but not as career men; or from other government jobs.

Hoffa Helping Union Redraft Constitution

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — James R. Hoffa, acting and talking his assurance of succeeding Dave Beck as Teamsters Union president, say the union's chief executive should be an administrative officer under the executive board.

Hoffa joined members of a special constitution committee today in reshaping the union charter union which Beck held virtually dictatorial power. Hoffa, a vice president, flew here from his Detroit headquarters.

The constitution changes drafted in the Committee's two-day session will be offered to the international's Miami convention Sept. 30. Hoffa's election there is regarded by the union hierarchy as about cinched.

Asked about Senate Racket Committee accusations linking him with an asserted "hoodlum stronghold over the Port of New York," Hoffa last night told reporters: "There is nothing I cannot answer and anything I do answer will not affect my candidacy for union president."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) accused Hoffa of being involved in exploitation of union members in New York.

"They do have a job to do," Hoffa said.

"But I can say that their statements concerning me are based on rumor, misstatements and misunderstandings.

"It will clear itself up in time." Hoffa said he was available for questioning by the committee at any time and added: "I can explain the New York situation to everybody's satisfaction."

On constitution revisions to be worked out here, Hoffa said the president should serve under direction of the 16-man executive board — composed of 11 vice presidents, three trustees, the secretary, treasurer and the president.

But Hoffa declared that if he is elected president he would expect the four conference chairmen or presidents "to take orders from me — with the approval of the board, of course."

Hoffa said 70 Teamster locals in the West already have pledged him support for the presidency. He said Joseph J. Divina, a San Francisco vice president who has opposed Hoffa for the top post, would have to take his chances at the Miami convention.

Sexy Blonde Makes Liar of Mathias

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A sexy blonde made an awful liar out of Bob Mathias the other day. Mathias is the handsome ex-Olympic decathlon champ who recently was signed to an acting career by John Wayne.

Bob, a six-foot-four hunk... of man, was discussing with a reporter about women athletes. Said he:

"Women, if they are smart, will keep out of athletics. First, they're no good at it compared with European women and, secondly, it tends to make them muscular and ugly."

About this time, an executive with Balzac Productions brought blonde Jeanne Carmen to the table and introduced her to Mathias and the reporter.

Jeanne, soft and curvy and a cross between Marilyn Monroe and Anita Ekberg, listened intently while Mathias continued. His discussion on women athletes. She said nothing.

Then the reporter started questioning her, asking her what she had done before she tried for a movie career. All at the table expected her to give the usual answer — model, or beauty contest winner or little theater. Instead she replied demurely:

"I was a golf pro."

"We had an act where we would get some volunteer from the audience to lie down the hold a teed-up golf ball in this mouth. Then the pro would ask me to hit the ball off the volunteer's mouth."

Did she ever miss? No, but she admitted that she had scored a lot of volunteers in her time.

"What did she think about Mathias' comments on women athletes?"

"I think he's been around too many women shot putters," she answered.

Mathias allowed as how he might have been.

Patients Checked for Medical Care

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Assistant Welfare Commissioner A. J. Moss today said that billings for welfare patients admitted to the State Medical Center are being checked against those of patients admitted as part of the allotment of cities and counties.

Purpose is to prevent duplication.

lions and to prevent the local government units being charged with patients who should be listed as welfare clients and, therefore, not chargeable against the counties and municipalities under a quota system set up by the 1957 Legislature, Moss said.

The Welfare official said no heretofore confidential files are being opened.

Moss said the bills have been subject to inspection.

er U. N. disarmament subcommittee at 2:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. est) and was given the floor as first speaker.

He brought with him a blueprint for a flexible offer giving the Soviet Union a choice of zones to be planted under East-West surveillance by aerial photography and ground inspection posts.

Dulles planned to introduce the plan and the depart for Washington tonight, leaving U. S. disarmament expert Harold E. Stassen to explain it in detail next week.

Dulles came here Monday on behalf of President Eisenhower to try to cut through diplomatic red tape. But he had been cautious about appearing at a subcommittee session for fear the Russians would capitalize on it and demand a formal foreign ministers conference.

Apparently he won Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin's approval at lunch Wednesday for an informal appearance. This was the same day Zorin agreed with the western powers to continue the disarmament conference beyond its Aug. 1 deadline.

Dulles' presence here already increased the pace. The presence of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau permitted the three powers to make on-the-spot decisions.

Dulles won from the allies agreement on a comprehensive "accordian" open skies plan—stretching from the Atlantic ocean to the Soviets' Ural Mountains, if Russia agrees, or a smaller area if Russia balks.

Publinx Meet Goes Into the Final Rounds

HERSHEY, Pa. (UP)—Don Essig, the slim, young giant-killer from Indianapolis, meets Don Sekrabulis, Antioch, Calif., and Gene Towry, Dallas, Texas, today in the 36-hole semi-final of the National Public Links golf championship.

The spotlight was on Essig, the 18-year-old business administration sophomore who "lives on the golf course," because of his quarter final upset of defending champion Junie Buxbaum in a 19 hole thriller.

Essig, who selected Louisiana State University for his education because he could play golf there all winter, kept the pressure on the former Memphis pro throughout their three-hour match yesterday.

Essig, nicknamed "The Kid" by the admiring gallery, took a one stroke lead with a birdie on the par three fourteenth but a wayward drive for a bogie on the 18th gave Buxbaum another chance.

Both players put well-placed drives 200 yards from the green on the 415-yard 18th and Essig's second shot put him seven feet from the pin. When he missed his second putt, Buxbaum smiled "I guess you can make it in four, can't you?" and shook Essig's hand in congratulation.

Sekrabulis, a 26-year-old weekend golfer, reached the round of four in his fifth bid for the Publinx title, with a two and one victory over Walt Gilliam, Burlingame, Calif.

Towry, a 28-year-old electrical engineering student at Southern Methodist University who won the Texas Public Link title, defeated finalist Bud Kivett, High Point, N.C., while Popovic turned back Dr. Sam Valuck, Denver osteopath.

Pels to Operate Best They Can
NEW ORLEANS (UP)—General Manager Vince Rizzo of the New Orleans Pelicans said the Southern Association cellar dwellers "will try and operate as best we can" for the remainder of the season despite a shortage of funds.

Directors of the attendance-poor team said yesterday they fell short in their fund-raising drive to finance the team for the balance of the season. But they vowed to continue operating despite the financial difficulty.

Directors declined to say after a 3-hour meeting how far they missed reaching their $25,000 goal in a drive extended two weeks.

The Pelicans began the first drive early in July and reached the $25,000 goal on the July 10 deadline only after the directors underwrote the last $9,800. The next $25,000 was sought by July 15, but the drive was extended until yesterday.

The first $25,000 insured operations through July while the second would have financed the rest of the season.

DOROTHY DIX

Traveling Job Cure for Single Gal's Problems

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a single girl of 34, living at home with my mother. My family has always come first with me, which I believe now is a mistake. For several years I haven't had much to do with men, due to a hurt I received some time ago. Last year I finally met a man I knew I could love. He never asked me out—not even for a walk—but did suggest that I visit his apartment. He's a bachelor, living alone, and I refused. He's paid no attention to me since, though he's friendly enough when we meet. I still love him.

How can I go about winning his interest?

UNWANTED AND LONELY
Dear Unwanted and Lonely: You long letter really contained several problems, but I haven't room for all of them, so picked out the most important. I'll be glad to answer all your questions more fully, if you'll write me personally, giving your name and address, and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

You have unquestionably been too wrapped up in your family, and now have a tardy realization that you aren't as indispensable as you thought. You do need new interests and new activities, but please believe me, the man of your dreams is not one of them. You were right to refuse his friendship on the basis it was offered. Nothing but grief would have come of it. If you case him now, you'd be worse off than ever.

I have two suggestions. One that you interview a psychologist to get your present attitudes leveled off, and second, that you find a new job, in different surroundings. A job that would take you traveling would be a perfect solution. Write me for general information on locating such work.

You're still a young woman with many, many good years ahead.

Don't waste them on fruitless yearnings or unhappy retrospect.

Women your age are in great demand in the business world. An interesting job will be the key to social success. Follow my prescription and I'm sure you'll soon be signing yourself "Loved and Needed!"

Dear Dorothy Dix: A few months ago when I was going with Sidney we indulged in quite a bit of petting. We didn't go all the way, but almost. Now I'm going with another boy, Leroy, and I feel that as I petted with Sidney I should do the same with Leroy.

D. J.
Dear D. J.: The wise girl profits by past mistakes; she doesn't commit the same error twice. You know your conduct with Sidney was wrong. Why get involved in the same kind of mess again? Forget the past and conduct future dates with propriety, before you have cause for real regret!

Dear Dorothy Dix: I met a sailor on the beach last week. He's 21 and I'm 17. He had a week's pass and spent every evening with me. We have a lot in common and he is very friendly. On our last date he asked me to marry him in three months. Do you think it would be wise?

R. F. M.
Dear R. F. M.: Marriage is a tough grind and must be founded on something more than a few things in common, and friendship. You're not ready for marriage.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm going steady with a boy for whom I have a great admiration, but no romantic feelings. I hate to hurt him, but how can I tell him I don't want to go with him any more?

KITTY
Dear Kitty: Do it simply and directly. The boy probably won't be as hurt as you expect him to be to your disappointment.

A cafe near Santiago that had remained open was hit by gunfire and hand grenades hurled from two automobiles last night.

Army reinforcements also were reported sent to Bueyello, another town in Oriente province, where a band of rebels was said to have burned an army post.

Censorship again was clamped on local and incoming foreign newspapers and radio stations and on outgoing news dispatches. Stories sent abroad were being delayed as much as six hours.

Specifically banned was publication or transmission of news implying support for the rebels led by Fidel Castro. Also banned was news on work stoppages promoted by labor unions or employees.

Full constitutional guarantees had been restored to Cuba's six million people April 15 after a 45-day suspension. Yesterday's new decree was the fourth time that constitutional rights have been lifted since Castro and a band of followers landed in eastern Cuba last Dec. 2 and launched a guerrilla campaign against the government.

Smith arrived in Cuba July 25 to take over as ambassador, and the Santiago demonstration obviously was timed to coincide with a visit he is making to that city.

The demonstrators, mostly women dressed in black, paraded through the streets singing the national anthem. Police broke up the rally with fire hoses and made some arrests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cottingham of Prescott and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Riley of North Little Rock.

The Reverend Alfred DeBlack read the marriage vows before the altar decorated with lighted tapers, magnolia trees and two fan shaped arrangements of majestic Daisies. White satin bows and plumosa marked the family pews. The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of rose point chantilly lace over white satin. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion extended from a bandeau of seed pearls and white satin leaves. She carried white phalaenopsis orchids in an arrangement of tulle and seed pearls on a white lace fan.

Local Girl To Appear

On Vic Danone TV Show

Miss Revoyda Frierson (stage name, Kitty Lester) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Frierson of Pajmos and Hope, Ark., is really taking her place among the top stars in show business.

After graduating from Yerger High School, where she was not only an excellent student but was one of the leading singers in the choir, Miss Frierson went to the West Coast where her outstanding voice was soon discovered and after successful audition signed a contract at the Purple Onion, in Hollywood where she had a terrific run. She then went to Matapoisett, Massachusetts, where she appeared at a Summer Resort; from Massachusetts, she opened the Diamond Beach Lodge, in New York, where she appeared for two glorious weeks (she was the first artist to appear there). She is now in New York, where she will appear on the Vic Danone TV Show, Wednesday, August 7th, at 9 p. m. (Channel 6). After this appearance, Kitty will go back to Massachusetts where her show will run indefinitely.

We are really proud of our little girl. Don't fail to tune in and enjoy it with us.

Gardner, Granger and Niven Compose Hilarious Desert Island Threesome of 'The Little Hut'

"The Little Hut," starting Sunday at the Saenger, in which Ava Gardner, Stewart Granger and David Niven are starring, is one of the funniest frolics ever filmed.

This witty and ultra sophisticated spoof on the vagaries of love and the incredible ingenuity in which one man proposes to make off with another man's wife in a preposterously funny but strictly above-board "share the spoils" agreement, had them laughing on Broadway before being adapted to the screen by F. Hugh Herbert, who also produced the film with Mark Robson for M-G-M release. Herbert is the author of that previous memorable comedy gem, "The Moon Is Blue," and few are his equal in the realization of hilarious dialogue and rib-ticking situations.

The situation in "The Little Hut" is that of three eminently respectable and aristocratic Brits, they are Susan Ashlow (Ava Gardner), who, neglected by her too-often-absent business tycoon husband, Sir Philip Ashlow (Stewart Granger), turns to career diplomat Henry Brittingham-Brett (David

CHAPTER XXII

I whispered, "That's Cole."

Blanchard heard me and walked out slow. Cole stopped. His face, city white with high red touches, showed me nothing. He stepped aside for Blanchard. Blanchard stopped.

"Blanchard said, 'Cole, I know?'"

"That's right, sir," Cole's voice was smooth, not bothered at all. Cole looked a lot like Barney and his voice was exactly like Barney's.

"Blanchard, U.S. marshal's office, Omaha City."

Cole nodded. "I've heard about you. What can I do for you?"

"You know about what's happened here?"

"Yes, I was told right away, of course. Terrible."

"Can you tell me anything about it?"

"Why, I don't suppose so. What I know is what people have told me since I arrived."

"What people?"

Cole reached into his pocket for a black, rough-carved pipe and filled it from a brown leather pouch. He lit a match and drew deep on the pipe and spoke around it. "A lot of questions, marshal, if you don't mind my saying so. I arrived in town last night, heard what happened, that's all. You obviously think I'm in Jones is the daughter of Mrs. Olie Cross.

Oliver Holds Stroke Lead at Chicago

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Family man Ed (Porky) Oliver, who hasn't won a tournament for more than a year, was a one-stroke leader in the swift parade into today's second round of the $25,000 All-American golf tourney.

The 40-year-old Oliver, father of four, had a 6-under-par 66 yesterday at Tam O'Shanter, where a combined men's women's, prize money field of 240 is slitting prizes.

Oliver, whose last triumph was in the 1956 Greenbriar at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., had the pro field nipping his heels.

Robust Bill Casper, a 205-pounder from Vanita, Calif., was a stroke behind with 67, while four players, including popular Sammy Snead, were locked for third at 68.

In all, 38 pro men shooters finished under Tam's 36-36-72 par figures. The 72-hole chase dangles a $3,500 first prize. This is merely a warmup for next weekend's $101,200 "World" championship, which has a $50,000 cash payoff for first place, golf's richest prize.

Grouped with Snead at 68 were Shelley Mayfield, 33, Jericho, N. Y., Tommy Bolt, 36, Los Angeles, and Gay Brewer, 25, Cincinnati, national junior champion in 1949.

Eight players were grouped at 69, including Al Besseling, Jay Herbert, Arnold Palmer, Bob Ross, Paul Harney, Don Fairfield, Mike Souhak and Roberto de Vicenzo, top foreign entry.

National Open Champion Dick Mayer was punched in a 19-player tie for 60th place at 73. The defending All-American champion, Dutch Harrison, and national PGA title Lionel Hebert each shot 72. Doug Ford, Master's champion, struggled to a 73.

In the women's pro division, Beverly Hanson and Fay Crocker shared the lead with 71, five under feminine par.

Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La., fired a 75 to lead the women's amateur division.

In the men's amateur bracket, the lead was shared by Bob Pratt, Renton, Wash., and Howard Everett, Northfield, N. J., with 71s.

Musial Breaks Record in Leading Cards to Top

By MILTON RISHMAN
UP Sports Writer

Stan Musial passed by Cobb today and the St. Louis Cardinals entered into the spirit of the occasion by passing Milwaukee, to take over the National League lead for the first time since July 17.

All this passing was accomplished when the Cardinals defeated the Giants, 9-0, last night to take over first place percentages points ahead of the idle Braves.

The 36-year-old Musial supplied most of the impetus with a perfect night at the plate that included a pair of two-run homers and two singles.

Stan The Man passed Cobb with his second homer of the game in the sixth inning. The blow, his 24th circuit of the season, was the 1,140th extra base hit of his career and put him in third place ahead of the Georgia Peach in that department.

Only Babe Ruth, with 1,350 extra base hits, and Lou Gehrig, with 1,190, are ahead of Musial. He undoubtedly will pass Gehrig before he is through and he has an outside chance of catching the Babe.

Sam Jones took care of the pitching for the Cardinals, who won their sixth straight, when he limited the Giants to six hits in registering his ninth victory.

In the only other National League games scheduled, Cincinnati nipped Philadelphia, 4-3, and Brooklyn mauled Chicago, 12-3.

Detroit defeated Boston, 7-5, and Washington beat the White Sox, in the only American League Games scheduled.

The Redlegs won their game from the Phillies with a three-run rally in the eighth inning. Ed Bailey capped the rally with a sacrifice fly that brought in Wally Post from third base with the winning run.

Klipstein was the winner in Detroit.

Gi Hodges of the Dodgers set a National League record with the 18th grand slam homer of his career as Brooklyn rapped out 18 hits and took advantage of six Cub errors. Hodges' grand slam wallop off Dick Littlefield enabled him to pass Rogers Hornsby and Ralph Kiner who held the previous record of 12.

Sandy Koufax checked the Cubs on four hits while striking out 11. Ernie Banks' three-run homer in the fourth accounted for all Chicago's runs.

The Tigers had to call on Frank Larry to stem a four-run, ninth inning rally after Frank Malone belted a three-run homer off Duke Mans. Harry Byrd relieved Mans and yielded two more singles but when Larry took over and got Norm Zaichin to hit into a double play, after which he struck out Leppio for the final out.

Detroit scored three runs in the top of the ninth off Rudy Minarcin on a pair of singles and doubles by Ray Boone and Frank House. Boston starter Mike Fornieles was the loser.

The Senators spotted the White Sox an early four-run lead and then came back to win at the expense of rookie Bill Fleher.

Larry Doby puts the White Sox ahead with a grand slam homer in the fourth inning but Washington tied the score on Roy Sievers' 23th homer with one on in the sixth. Sievers' homer finished Jack Harshman and brought in Fischer, who gave up the deciding run on a double by Art Schult, a sacrifice and Milt Bolling's single.

Southpaw Chuck Stobbs was credited with his fifth victory.

The loss dropped the second-place White Sox four games behind the pace-setting Yankees.

ney wasn't scared of nothing."

"You suppose he came out here now to get Lillian, take her and Dick back to Chicago?"

"Reckon Lillian's got something to say about that."

"I mean maybe he's mixing business and pleasure, like they say. He comes out for the Dorsey lynching, claims his bride and heads back to Chicago. Everything is cleaned up in Blue Springs."

"That's foolishness, if I ever heard it," said before I thought. "Maybe not like the Clemens, too. They might take care of Dorsey, then clear out."

"Oh, no, Harney. Leave the buffalo grounds? You know what kind of money they make?"

"Buffalo hunting is about done. Maybe one more good season. Already the southern herds are small. Pike. You can't kill the way it's been done the last few years and keep buffalo."

"I heard tales about the hunting up north all the way into Canada and south well into Texas. But I'd never thought of it in that way before, that the buffalo in our basin might be killed and skinned out before they got here. I planned to be a hunter some day."

"Be a farmer, Pike. If you stay. Get some land. No more fighting the country. It's like the land wants to be used one way. Use it that way and the land rewards you."

I sat down by Blanchard and sipped the icy drink through my straw. Farming. Sedentary. It didn't seem like something a man would go to if he had anything else.

The Iron CURTAIN

...pull it back and take a look.

You'll get the shivers real quick like... you'll shake with fear and horror. Inside this curtain, "the Iron Curtain," it is cold, cruel and all human life is calculated. They murder men who have ideas, who differ with Leninism. Just take a peep, Mr., and you'll start thanking Almighty God for this land called America.

A country where men are free and where God's church is the center of life in every community. This is a land where all men are created equal and must be reckoned with as equals. God knows no special creeds or nationalities. This is America... Hallelujah for our good land and for freedom of worship.

Be yourself! Get right with God and with country—A-men!

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

An entire Book of the Bible is devoted to the story of Ruth, a great... it is not the greatest, of Old Testament women.

I think that for forcefulness of character and achievement I would give the word "greatest" to Deborah. She was the Judge of Israel, whose sheer strength of will and wisdom was such that the palm tree under which she dwelt (Judges 4:5) became the place where people came for judgment.

Moreover, her power and influence were such that Barak, the military leader, would not go to fight unless she went with him (Judges 4:9).

But I imagine that great and admirable as Deborah was she may not have been a gentle, or particularly lovable, character. In the gentler virtues of devotion and loyalty in personal and family relationships Ruth stands unexcelled.

In the Book of Ruth is the serious record of the most beautiful relationship between a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law that could be imagined, love and loyalty of the finest sort, with a courage born of mutual devotion.

It is this that gives glamour and glory to a story that began in tragedy—the tragedy of famine and exile, of marriage and widowhood.

Naomi, the eldest of the three widows, was forced by famine to go to Moab, with her husband and two sons (Ruth 1:1-5). There her husband died, and both sons died after marrying Moabitish women, Ruth and Orpah.

When the bereft Naomi decided to return to her own Bethlehem her two daughters-in-law pleaded to go with her, but she urged them to return to their own country.

As they wept, Orpah kissed her mother-in-law but yielded to her urgings and went back.

Ruth, however, in words that have become historic, said earnestly: "Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people and thy God my God." (Ruth 1:10)
